Chair Albright expressed an interest in hearing the survey findings.

Dr. Mohammed Sadiq, Program Director, Public Health Institute, shared a client's personal story and challenges she faces as an Afghan refugee and relies heavily on support from the Refugee Family Support program in Sacramento. Dr. Sadiq stated the work First 5 is doing is indispensable.

Janice LeRoux, Executive Director, First 5 Placer, mentioned the systems change work that is being done. Ms. LeRoux shared Sacramento is home to the largest number of Afghan refugees. The refugees then resettle to Placer, Sutter, and Yolo counties which has brought significant strains to their systems. Ms. LeRoux thanked the Commission for their investment and is hopeful for continued investment in the Refugee Family Support program.

Discussion

Commissioner Jimenez asked how much money has been spent on the Refugee Family Support program. Ms. Wong stated $2 million has been expended. Chair Albright asked why the funding that was passed is so narrow that some families are not eligible for services. Ms. Wong shared F5CA aligned their refugee definition with the federal definition and asylees are not captured. Chair Albright confirmed that a community-based organization is required to evaluate eligibility criteria to access [Refugee Support Services] funding. Ms. Wong stated that is the reason why the partnerships with the county agencies is important. The local partnerships ensure the successful local implementation of the program.

None.

MOTION/ACTION: Commission Paz moved to approve a one-year no-cost extension to the Refugee Family Support Local Grants from September 1, 2023, to August 31, 2024.

Commissioner Jimenez asked if F5CA would bring some messaging that focuses on the systems change aspect of the work. Ms. Lopez stated F5CA will work with the Public Education and Outreach Advisory Committee to review those aspects of the RFP to ensure all of these suggestions are included. Commissioner Risso agreed with Commissioner Jimenez on messaging the systems change work. Commissioner Paz agreed and would like to see more outreach to indigenous communities.

- Expanding the Kit's Reach to Families with Low Incomes
- Kit for New Parents Study and Timeline
- Future Investments
- Reflections on the Kit from First 5 San Diego Executive Director Alethea Arguilez

Discussion

Commissioner Risso asked what counties have high distribution rates and how they are obtaining that. Ms. Syphax responded by stating the smaller counties struggle with staffing and because the Kit has been available for a long time, some counties have developed their own strategies for getting Kit's to communities. Heather Quick, Managing Researcher, American Institutes for Research (AIR), also responded by sharing that AIR is still analyzing the data, as these questions are part of a study that is currently being conducted. Ms. Quick stated the counties that are distributing more Kits tend to have more partners engaged in the work. Ms. Quick also noted in some counties there is a centralized effort at the county level to get the message out to develop partnerships. Commissioner Risso expressed that a more collaborative approach with some of the successful counties would help some of the struggling counties and generate some ideas. Chair Albright stated in addition to engaging partnerships between counties and providers, it's important to evaluate and leverage technology to address the literacy divide.
